The Feminist Studies Program presents

The 2011 Jesse Daniel Ames Lecture Series:

Advancing a National Movement for Reproductive Justice

Silvia Henriquez Executive Director National Latina Institute for Reproductive Health

March 1, 2011

Silvia Henriquez, Executive Director of the National Latina Institute for Reproductive Health (NLIRH), will lecture at 4:00pm, Tuesday, March 1st, in McCombs Center Ballrooms. She will discuss issues of reproductive health and how they intersect with issues of immigration, with a particular focus on Latina/o communities.

The NLIRH uses Reproductive Justice as a framework to advance the health and well-being of Latinas, their families and their communities. This framework allows us to place the needs of our communities at the center and demonstrates the intersection and multiple identities of our communities. Silvia Henriquez will share how over the years NLIRH has developed policy, organizing and research models and strategies that incorporate a reproductive justice perspective and show the power and potential of the Latina community to lead, mobilize and advocate on reproductive health/rights and justice issues.

The 2011 Jesse Daniel Ames lecture is sponsored by the Feminist Studies Program and the Fleming Lecture Fund.

For more information please contact: Alison Kafer, PhD Associate Professor and Chair of Feminist Studies 512-863-1417 kafera@southwestern.edu