What Others Are Saying: Southwestern is one of 40 schools featured in Lauren Pope's book, Colleges That Change Lives. The book says the University is "one of the few jewels of the Southwest whose mission is to prepare a new generation to contribute to a changing society, and to prosper in their jobs, whatever and wherever in the world they may be."

Southwestern also is included in The Princeton Review's 2011 edition of The Best 373 Colleges, a book its authors say chooses schools "primarily for their outstanding academics." The book says Southwestern is "one of the best 'sleepers' in the nation... Academic excellence abounds, the administration is earnest and helpful, and financial aid packages are frequently tremendous. If you could thrive in a small-town, close-knit environment, Southwestern definitely deserves a look."

Tuition: $31,630 tuition and fees (2010-11). Room rates range from $4,000 for a two-person room in the oldest residence hall on campus to $9,790 for a one-bedroom apartment in the newest residential center. Meal plans ranging from $1,906 to $5,412 are available. Students in the Class of 2014 received more than $6.1 million in financial assistance from the university.

Endowment: $241 million (as of June 30, 2010).
