What Others Are Saying: Southwestern is one of 40 schools featured in Lauren Pope's book, Colleges That Change Lives. The book says the University is "one of the few jewels of the Southwest whose mission is to prepare a new generation to contribute to a changing society, and to prosper in their jobs, whatever and wherever in the world they may be."

Southwestern also is included in The Princeton Review's 2010 edition of The Best 371 Colleges, a book its authors say chooses schools "primarily for their outstanding academics." The book says Southwestern is "one of the best 'sleepers' in the nation... Academic excellence abounds, the administration is earnest and helpful, and financial aid packages are frequently tremendous. If you could thrive in a small-town, close-knit environment, Southwestern definitely deserves a look."

Tuition: $30,020 tuition and fees (2009-10); room and board ranges from $3,810 for a two-person room in the oldest residence hall on campus to $9,320 for a one-bedroom apartment in the newest residential center. Ninety-six percent of students in the Class of 2013 received some form of financial aid from the university.

Endowment: $231 million (as of June 30, 2009).
